

Steven M. Stamps has been practicing workers' compensation defense for the Law Office of Ricky D. Green since graduating from law school in 2010. Steven grew up in Arizona and received a Bachelor of Science in Business Management from Arizona State University in 2007. Shortly thereafter, he moved to Austin to begin his legal education. During law school at the University of Texas School of Law, Steven took a wide ranging schedule of classes but still found time to work for a non-profit legal office and write for a sports law journal.

Steven began working for the Law Office of Ricky D. Green shortly before graduating from the University of Texas School of Law. Steven has had hands on experience with the Texas workers' compensation system since his first day at the firm. He has quickly become a veteran at handling benefit review conferences, benefit contested case hearings, administrative appeals, subrogation, judicial review litigation, Designated Doctor submissions, medical dispute resolution, complaint resolution, subsequent injury fund reimbursements, and continuing education across the State of Texas. Whether on the road or in the office, Steven is always available to answer your questions about workers' compensation issues.

Away from the office, Steven enjoys spending time with his wife, daughter, and dog. Steven and his wife are avid travelers and enjoy rooting for their favorite teams in a multitude of sports.
